Municipal Complex Bids Announced by Authority

Groundbreaking Slated for Jan. 11

Manufacturers National Bank Is Bond Issue Bidder

BY HENRY CANTIN
Staff Writer

ROMULUS—Groundbreaking for the initial phases of Romulus Township's new Municipal Complex has been tentatively scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 11, Roderick E. Smith, township supervisor, announced.

Successful low bidders for the architectural, mechanical and electrical construction for the Municipal Building and Library portions of the Municipal Complex as well as a bond sale bid were received on Dec. 18 and Dec. 22 by officials of the Romulus Building Authority and approved.

The Municipal Building and Library will take eight of the 16 acres.

There was only one bid received for the purchase of the bond issue. It was submitted by the Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, Romulus Branch.

The bank's bid was for all or none of the bonds at a rate of six (6) percent. It was accepted by the Building Authority.

The bank's offer to purchase the entire bond issue was presented by Alan R. Goldman, vice-president of the Manufacturers National Bank at Detroit.

A bill increasing the interest rate to a limit of eight percent was introduced in the Michigan Legislature and approved several days ago.

"The bank was being a good neighbor and showing appreciation for the business relations between the bank and township and faith in the Township and its future," Smith said when commenting on the bid of six percent.

"I think that the bank went to extremes to show their good faith in the administration and development of our community now and in its future. It is very appropriate at this time of the year when

THE SIX PERCENT interest charged by the bank is the current interest ceiling in the state.

A bill increasing the interest rate to a limit of eight percent was introduced in the Michigan Legislature and approved several days ago.

Romulus Jaycees Host Children's Yule Party

ROMULUS—Fifty-two underprivileged children were hosted to a Christmas party, Saturday, Dec. 20 at Gordonier Elementary School by Romulus Jaycees and Jaycee wives.

The boys and girls, first, second and third grades attending local elementary schools, enjoyed a puppet show presented by Harold Ramm of Dearborn.

Ramm is well known in the Detroit Metropolitan area and has performed at most major shopping centers on local children's television shows as well as at hundreds of private and public schools.

THE CHILDREN were introduced to a dozen individual puppets by Ramm and many had the pleasure of having one of the individual puppets sit in his or her lap.

After the puppet show, the youngsters were served cookies and milk by Jan Collins and Sharon Champagne.

The cookies were donated by the Jaycee wives and milk by McDonald Dairies of Ann Arbor.

Upon completion of their cookies and milk, the children received a surprise visit from Santa, Christmas Carol and Santa's performing dog.

The children received presents of umbrellas, an autographed Snoopy, toy cars, baseballs, dolls, paint sets, games and airplanes.

EACH CHILD received four gift items plus a Jaycee trash liner bag donated by Eugene Pericki to carry his presents home.

At the end of the party, each child met with his or her Jaycee driver and was taken home, their Christmas just a little happier and a dozen Jaycees and Jaycee wives had their Christmas enriched.

The Jaycee committee working on what will become an annual project were chairman, Harold Connon; Charles Hazen, Gordon Silvey, Gary Gruber and Sharon Champagne.

Gordon Silvey, Jaycee president, wishes to thank publicly the following people for their donations of time and materials: Harold Ramm, Eugene Gribble, Eugene Pericki, the Romulus Community Schools, the Jumbo jets are not expected to start operating at Metropolitan Airport until late 1970 or early 1971, but construction of facilities for them is expected to take a year.

The airport is a self-supporting operation. Revenue from its services will be used to retire the bond issue.

The supervisors suspended their rules to give their action immediate effect.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS adopted unanimously an amendment changing the six percent interest ceiling specified in the County bond ordinance to "interest at a rate or rates not exceeding the maximum rate permitted by (State) law"

The supervisors had urged the Legislature to increase the maximum interest to attract investors.

Editorial Independence

Politicians who profess to be liberals are often the quickest to criticize editors when they fail to toe the "liberal" line or when they see merit in the views of others and reprint them as expressions of editorial policy.

The majority of editors are more independent in their thinking than the politicians. They don't key their words to getting votes. They concern themselves with informative comment for their readers on local, national, industrial, labor and tax questions affecting employment, production and the economy.

The United States is unusually fortunate in having some 10,000 weekly and smaller city daily newspapers, in addition to its large dailies and national publications. They are generally owned by local citizens who are property owners, taxpayers and employers. Their editors are members of all political parties.

They are not afraid to express their opinions of public officials. They are not afraid of being liquidated as writers and publishers have been in communist nations. They do not take kindly to political dictation and attempts by officials to intimidate or censure what they use or how they use it. If they did, there would be no free press.

Students Assist OEO With Canned Food Items

The Wayne County Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) received over 2,650 items of canned food during the months of November and December.

The food was donated to the poverty agency by high school students from the Romulus and Plymouth senior high schools, two of several schools who participated in a county-wide competitive canned food drive, which was sponsored by the University of Detroit Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) as an effort to assist low-income families in the Wayne County area.

Working under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Donnelly, a senior at the Plymouth High School and Mike Zayer, student counselor advisor at the Romulus High School, approximately 150 teenage boys and girls canvassed the western suburban communities and held various activities to collect food. IN ADDITION, junior high school students from Bryant Junior High School in Livonia, who did not compete in the drive, contributed $900 worth of canned food to the Wayne County Poverty Program, making this their second effort of community service to the target areas since 1968.

All canned foods were distributed to the Wayne County OEO target area Community Action Centers in Romulus, Inkster, Taylor, Sumpter, Ecorse, River Rouge, Highland Park and Hamtramck, where emergency food banks have been established as a direct service to provide food for needy families.

NEW YEAR'S EVE

This is the last day of December,
Yes, the last day of the year,
And at the witching hour of midnight,
Father Time will now appear--
He comes to make a royal entry,
Ushering in 1970.

All dressed up in scythe and beard,
With bands and dancing and balloons,
Father Time comes marching in,
Accompanied by appropriate tunes;
Auld Lang Syne, and cup of cheer,
And 1970 is here!

COMPLEX BIDS

men are asked to show faith and good will toward their fellowman," he added.

WHEN FINALLY completed the Municipal Complex will consist of four-building civic center that will also embrace a police headquarters and a community center.

Township officials are pleased with the performance of officials of the Building Authority, in the number of bidders vying for the construction contract and especially for the success in sale of the total bond issue during a tight money period and limited state bond interest ceiling.

Members of the Romulus Building Authority are: Howard Dubisky, operator of the F and M Market, Romulus, president; Leo M. Kalota, second vice-president and manager of the Romulus Branch of the Manufacturers National Bank; secretary; and Edmund L. Galazka, manager of the Romulus Branch of the National Bank of Detroit, treasurer.

Edward L. Stuart, former manager of the Romulus Branch of Manufacturers until his transfer, who was instrumental in setting up various phases of the Authority's initial operations was also commended by the Township.

William Jones Finishes Basics

ROMULUS—William L. Jones, 19, member of the United States Air Force, has completed his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Lackland, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Jones, of 9394 Tobine Road.

Airman Jones' wife is now with the Security Police at Grand Forks, North Dakota. His wife, Catherine left last Saturday to join her husband. Both are graduates of Romulus High School (1963).

Poolroom Ordinance Amended

ROMULUS—An amendment to an ordinance establishing and fixing the hours of operation of billiard and poolrooms in Romulus has been approved by the Township Board.

The amended ordinance requires that such establishments, licensed by the Township, shall not be operated in any place in the Township during the hours of 2 and 7 a.m.

The ordinance sets up penalties for violations.

Romulus Master Plan's OK Nears

ROMULUS—A new masterplan for Romulus Township nears final approval.

The master plan prepared by Perkins, Rogers & Associates, Inc., of Detroit, planning consultants, has been reviewed by the Wayne County Planning Commission, Joseph Wallis, secretary of the Romulus Planning Commission, reported.

The county agency offered suggestions to various aspects of the plan. Those will be studied by the township's Planning Commission as soon as possible, Wallis said.

THE COMMISSION recently held a public hearing on the adoption of a revised text of the township's Zoning Ordinance and the establishing of various zoning districts.

Wallis announced that the Planning Commission will meet on Dec. 30, and if the scheduled agenda permits, discussion on the master plan and county's suggestions will be held otherwise a special session will be called.

Nixon Blasted by Ford For Power Politics

Congressman William D. Ford (D) of Michigan's 15th District made a blistering attack on President Nixon for "11th hour power politics" as the 1969 Session of the 91st Congress moved into its final hours.

Congressman Ford lashed into the President Friday, Dec. 19 on the House floor, and again Saturday morning at a special press conference.

In both instances, he singled out President Nixon's threat to veto educational appropriations for the coming year.

The Congressman is a member of the House Education and Labor Committee, and is chairman of the Education Task Force of the Democratic Study Group—an organization of liberal House Democrats.

IN HIS statement Friday on the floor of the House of Representatives, Ford charged that the Congress had been treated by President Nixon "to the most amazing and brazen display of power politics in the modern history of our country."

"Within the last few days," he declared, "as the most important legislation considered by this Congress is in Conference Committee, with its fate hanging in the balance, we have seen a flood of messages from President Nixon in a direct attempt to intimidate Members of Congress in their consideration of that legislation."

Ford cited four areas in which the President has used the threat of a veto to influence legislation—educational appropriations, Social Security benefits, Federal employee pay, and mine safety legislation.

"He threatened last night by letter to the Senate that he will veto the Health, Education and Welfare appropriations bill, which this House passed by a vote of 393 to 16 on July 31," Ford said.

"ACCORDING TO this morning's paper, he is going to veto the Coal Mine Safety Bill, because he does not like it, even though the House passed it by a vote of 389 to 4."

"We approved, by a vote of 311 to 51, a pay increase for all Federal employees, to help them keep pace with increases in the cost of living. President Nixon has threatened to veto this bill, because it would be inflationary. But in yesterday's Washington Daily News, you will find a headline story that says, 'inflationary or not, he will sign the bill if he can make an under-the-table deal to sell his postal corporation scheme.'"

"In other words, a bill passed by Congress is considered inflationary when he cannot get what he wants with it. However, it ceases to be inflationary when he can use it to get something he wants—such as the pig-in-the-poke postal corporation."

"To top it all off," Ford declared, "the President has threatened to veto the Social Security bill, which was approved on the floor of this House by a vote of 397 to 0. Nothing could be more bi-partisan than a vote like that."

CONGRESSMAN FORD accused the President of forgetting or ignoring the fact that the United States has a three-part Federal government.

"He is attempting to substitute White House power politics for the will of the people, as expressed by their elected representatives in the House and in the Senate," Ford charged. "The doctrine of separation of powers among the three branches of Federal government has served this nation well for nearly 200 years, and I for one, do not propose to see it scrapped now. This Congress represents the American people. We cannot be intimidated by anyone, even the President of the United States, into abdicating our responsibility."

Ford particularly criticized President Nixon's threatened veto of the Health, Education and Welfare appropriations.

"The President has demonstrated once again that education appears nowhere on the priority list for his Administration. In telling us that he would veto the HEW appropriation as too expensive, he sided with those who would rather look at shiny military hardware than take the hand of a hungry and hopeless child."

"ISN'T IT tragic that the poor, who live in desperation, may watch the man who lights the National Christmas tree veto a bill that would give their children a better life?"

"I propose that we repudiate this hypocritical administration," Congressman Ford said, "and show the American people—our constituents who look to us for help—that we have the intestinal fortitude to override Mr. Nixon's veto, if indeed he dares to do such a thing."

President Nixon's educational policies also came under bitter fire at Saturday's press conference called by Ford and nine other members of the House of Representatives.

The others were Carl D. Perkins (Kentucky), chairman of the Education and Labor Committee; Donald Fraser (Minnesota), chairman of the Democratic Study Group; John Brademas (Indiana); Patsy Mink (Hawaii); Jeffery Cohelan, Glenn Anderson and Edward Roybal, all of California; Sam Gibbons, of Florida; and Edward Koch, of New York.

IN A PREPARED STATEMENT, they said:

"President Nixon's threat to veto education appropriations makes clear that the Nixon Administration is enemy territory for American education."

"The American people—and most of all the nation's children—will be the losers as a result of the Nixon Administration's anti-education posture."

"Moreover, the Administration's demand for drastic cuts for education comes at a time of dire financial crisis for schools all over the country."

"Congress has already cut nearly $6 billion from the President's budget requests so that the charge that money for education is inflationary is patently phoney."

"Clearly, Mr. Nixon has singled out hard-pressed schools and colleges for special attack."

"Last year in his campaign, Candidate Nixon said, 'When we talk about cutting the expenses of government—either Federal, state or local—the one area we can't shortchange is education.'"

"His savage attack on the effort in Congress to reestablish education as a high priority makes a mockery of his campaign rhetoric."

"Congress this year has repeatedly—in the House of Representatives by roll-call votes of a majority of both Democrats and Republicans—insisted that we must do more for education, not less."

Romulus Taxpayers Get Penalty Waiver

ROMULUS—Taxpayers in Romulus Township have until Feb. 28 to pay current property tax bills (1969) without penalty, Joseph Wallis, township treasurer, announced. The tax bills are due Dec. 1.

The four percent penalty waiver was approved by a Township Board Resolution of Oct. 21, 1969. The resolution approval was on motion of Trustee Jimmy Raspberry and supported by Township Clerk and Board member Alfred J. Perry.

After Feb. 28, the collection of delinquent tax bills are handled by the Wayne County Treasurer with added penalty, Wallis stated.

CURRENT TAX bills called for higher taxpayment this year due to an increase in school millage approved by the voters of Romulus Community School District last year, Harold L. Reiner, deputy assessor reported.

Increase in property valuations throughout the township as elsewhere will mean more tax money being collected.

Although there were no increase in the county or township tax rate for 1969, the high property valuation will make for higher tax payments, he added.

Michigan Recreation Bond Sale Stalemated

State officials in Michigan have been able to make "very little" progress in their efforts to sell bonds under the $435 million Clean Water and Recreation program approved at the polls a year ago in November.

That discouraging report was made to the Natural Resources Commission during its monthly meeting in Lansing.

Gaylord A. Walker, deputy director of administration for the Department of Natural Resources, told the Commission that plans to hold a bond sale tied to the recreation phase of the total program are being stymied by a "tight" money problem which has worsened since the first bonds were sold in October to provide $30 million for water pollution control works.

HE NOTED that state treasury officials face a major hurdle in working up a bond sale for which the interest rate will not exceed the six percent ceiling set by law. Another big problem, stressed Walker, is to find General Fund money which can be used to finance the debt service (interest and principal payments) to be obligated under the bond program.

Originally, it was estimated that the annual debt service for the entire $435 million program would approximate $25 million, if bonds were retired over a 30-year span. It now appears, however, that this yearly figure may balloon to $40-50 million because of high interest charges and the probability that the bonds will have to be paid off in a much shorter period, perhaps within 15 years or less.

DNR officials had previously hoped to completely fund the $335 million Clean Water and $100 million Recreation programs with bond monies in the next five years, but Walker explained that this timetable may have to be lengthened because of the adverse developments he outlined earlier.

recreation bond sale if the overriding problem of "tight" money shows enough improvement to remove the present stalemate.

million which the DNR has cleared with the State Legislature.

that program during the present period.

DNR DIRECTOR Ralph A. MacMullan said last week that the outcome could be "nearly catastrophic" if his Department doesn't receive funds to administer the tremendous workload of the entire bond program and to carry out capital improvements in fisheries, wildlife, parks, and forest-recreation work.

DNR officials noted with grave concern at the Commission meeting that their Department's entire capital outlay program for the current fiscal year hinges precariously upon the sale of recreation bonds. The DNR has requested $8.9 million in recreation bond funds for

Huron Valley 4-H Club Holds Meet

NEW BOSTON--The regular Monthly meeting of the Huron Valley 4-H Club, was held Dec. 16, in the basement of the St. Stephens Church.

A short business meeting was called to order by Margaret Bock, president.

With regret, it was announced there won't be an Achievement Day this year.

Also, a constitution meeting was set up for Jan. 5, 1970 at Mrs. Haener's for 7:30 p.m.

THE CLUB is planning a trip to the Detroit Mounted Police Stables during Christmas vacation. It sounds like fun.

The motion to adjourn the meeting was made by Janet Alderman and seconded by Tommy Swirles.

After the meeting, the Christmas Party was held.

THE MENU was sloppy joes, chips, pop and Christmas cookies. Afterwards, the exchanging of gifts took place; and movies of the Trail Ride were shown. It was a very nice party.

Next month refreshments will be served by Mrs. Smith and Donald and Michelle Viger.

Santa Pays Visit to School

ROMULUS--Santa Claus paid his annual visit at Mt. Pleasant Elementary School on Dec. 19.

Santa visited each of the 20 rooms in the school.

He talked to every child and teacher to fill his Christmas list.

The P.T.A. officers helped to give some of the gifts to the teachers, school secretary, and principal.

Santa's Christmas Carol, gave candy to the children. The students thanked Santa Claus for coming to the school and the five McDonald sisters who were in the Christmas program.

The P.T.A. made a Christmas basket for the Loggia family of Romulus. Three of their children were in an auto accident two weeks before Christmas.

All Around The Town

... with Lee Smith
Women's Editor

Another Christmas to Remember

THE TINSEL'S not only been hung with the greatest of care but the tree probably has quite a distinguished sag to its stature these post-Christmas days when all the pent-up emotions have finally been released through the efforts of 'good old St. Nick.'

This column is being written a few hours after the big day and thus far the Smiths have made the following discoveries: the defroster gun the girls bought dad has a frayed cord; Luanne's heated hair roller set shorts out when plugged in; Carol's paint-by-number-on-wood set had a lovely array of dried out paint pots; Luanne's pretty plaid skirt (with a popular label and matching price-tag) has a very noticeable droop to the hemline; Carol's dress from Grandma Smith is too small; my blouse from Lu was sent in the wrong size; and the purportedly impossible weight-balancing game I bought Bert was solved on his first attempt. Only Susie came through with a 'no complaints' list so guess we're ahead of some of you with the 'post-present' blahs.

But then — on the sunnier side — let me list our "For This We're Thankful" roster: (1) Our 19-pound gobbler came out looking like a page from Better Homes. (2) Brother Ed managed to dig up a sack of ice cubes for us (something we'd completely overlooked). (3) A lovely poinsettia plant arrived most unexpectedly from dear friends who, had they not been out of state, would have joined us for dinner. (4) Ye olde toilette behaved itself for a day after making like a geyser a couple times prior to Christmas Day. (5) Each of us was pleased, delighted, and often completely surprised with the care and thoughtfulness which went into the selection of our gifts. (6) We were able to share our table with special friends and close relatives. (7) And the "Little Fella" (who made it all possible) blessed us with a picture-perfect day for celebrating His birthday.

Taking just one more paragraph since it'll be the finale for "All Around the Town" this year, we at the Belleville Enterprise (and that's our manager Bert Osterberg; editor R. Henry Cantin; Ruth Lindsay and Diane Ferguson in our front business office; and 'yours truly') wish to extend our very best for a healthy, happy, and prosperous 1970.

The Vincent's Day

THE VINCENTS — Jim and Betty and their quartet, Sheree, Jim, Kim and William — filled their holiday with visits to relatives. After calling on Jim's mother, Mrs. Rose Vincent, who's in from her librarian duties at the University of Wisconsin, they sat down to dinner with Dr. and Mrs. James L. Vincent, of Belleville.

Others at the three o'clock gathering were the William Vincents of Birmingham; George Vincent of Troy; John Vincent from Ypsilanti; and John and Rosemarie Sullivan and their seven children from Westland.

From there Jim and Betty stopped to see her mother and dad, Margaret and Joseph Komaromi, on Haggerty Road, where they exchanged gifts and spent the remainder of the day.

WHEN THE Memering clan gets together in its entirety it takes a rented hall to accommodate them. And that's why the Wildwood Hall in Wayne was reserved Sunday, December 21, for the group's annual family party which listed a total of 80 persons present.

The celebration got off to a fine start with dinner at two and Santa's arrival a couple hours later. The group — descendants of Mrs. Alma Memering of Belleville and the late Girard Memering — included the Ray Memering, Bob Memering, Ed Memering, Richard Pinette, Frank Ivan, and

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Patterson, of Savage Road, Belleville, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Susan Marie, to Steven Charles Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patton, of 41720 Bemis Road, Belleville.

Both young people are seniors at Belleville High School. The prospective bridegroom is employed by the Ford Motor Company at Rawsonville and also at his father's business, the J & J Cycle Shop, in Ypsilanti.

No date has been set for the wedding.

MISS PATTERSON

Elmer Memering families, all from our town; the Ray Deeds family from Plymouth; the Joseph Cortes of Westland; the Jim Memering family of Wyandotte; and the Herman Memerings from Wayne. Members of the Mike Waddell family (victims of an untimely flu bug) were the only ones missing from the gala event.

Members of the younger set, arriving with their dates, included Margaret Memering with Mike Suliman and her sister, Alma, with Woody Sloan; Mona Waddell with Brian Wilson; Sue Corte and Mark Byrne; and Kenn Memering who brought Sue Morrison of Southgate.

A highlight of the gathering was the announcement of the engagement of Jim Memering (on leave from the Naval Air Station at Miramar, California) and Debbie Capps of Southgate who are planning a June wedding. There were also belated congratulations to be offered to Art Sullens whose fiancée is Sienna Waddell.

And still one more person to mention — Jerry Dumanas, of Oahu, Hawaii, a friend of Jim's who was also on leave from his base at San Diego.

Birthdays at the Baker's

THE HOLIDAY season is also a time for birthday observances in the Bob Baker family. So it was that the Sunday prior to the 25th the group was together to extend to Bob Jr. (who was a Christmas baby a couple decades back) and his wife, Nina, (hers is on the 20th) a dual birthday toast.

Making up the group of well-wishers at dinner were Mildred's parents, the Lambert Midas, and her sister and family, the Herbert Frys, all from Wayne; the Walter Bakers, (Bob's folks from Belleville); Jim Baker and his date, Debbie Hayden, both home from Michigan State; and Joan Baker with Jay Tower.

On Christmas Day the same group was assembled for an exchange of gifts and a festive 're-run' of the Sunday dinner party.

Here 'N There

MAKING THE holiday season complete for the Marshall Hopes, of E. Huron Drive, was the arrival of their daughter, Ann, on the 18th. Jetting in from Florida where she was attending the University of Miami, Ann is planning to pick up her classes next term at Michigan State where she spent the first two of her co-ed years. For holiday dinner the Hope trio entertained Louise's brother-in-law and sister, John and Wanda Cogan, and their two, Barbara and Barry, from Farmington ... MARTY AND CAROLYN Fogarty played host December 19 to a group of his fellow State Farm Insurance agents. Arriving at their pretty colonial home on Ormond Drive were six couples from Lincoln Park, Allen Park, and Trenton, who enjoyed a social evening and buffet set-up ... THE BERT SMITH family spent Christmas Eve with close friends, 'Lieb', Gwen, and Ray Liebele, of Ormond Drive, (Lieb just in from a rugged pilot's training session in California after a week and a half.)

The following day the Liebeles joined the Smiths for six o'clock dinner which also included Ed and Mary Ann Hudge and daughters, Nancy and Nora. Coming in later were the Bill Hudge family who'd been to Brighton for dinner with Flo's folks, the Walter Hesses ... OPEN HOUSE was the order of the evening on the 27th at the Thurston Jahr's Harmony Lane home. Some 60 close friends of the Jahr's and their three children, a few business associates, and several neighbors were included on the guest list. 4-H Club Holds Christmas Party

BELLEVILLE—The Belleville Galloping Comedians 4-H Club held their Christmas party at the home of leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Curry of 40419 Robbe Road.

The party, a potluck dinner at 7:30 p.m., welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hayward former leaders, as well as leaders, Mrs. Velda Mitchell, Mrs. Connie Morris, and Mrs. Marlow Milton.

Other guests included Don Morris, the Morris children Eric and Kristen, and Mr. and Mrs. Drex Simon.

Mitchell, as president, made the presentation for the club. Santa did the honors, of passing out the exchange of gifts, and each person receiving his gift from Santa got his picture taken with him.

Curry was the photographer, for the evening, and gave each person their picture.

Ann O'Beay was the only member not able to attend because of her rigid practice schedule with the Senior School Play.

Receives Degree

SANTA CLAUS (Mr. Eugene Gribble) and Mrs. Lynn Gribble were the surprise guests of the evening.

After a delicious dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Hayward were presented with a framed certificate of thanks, the certificate also made them Honorary members of the Galloping Comedians. Joy

Township Board Approves New Housing Development

BELLEVILLE—The Van Buren Township Board has granted approval to the Park Drive Supply Company of Southfield to complete three sections of the Van Buren Estates Subdivision.

The firm plans the construction of a 166-lot housing development on Haggerty Road, south of Tyler Road, near the I-94 Expressway.

The Township Board's action in approving the construction of single-family residences as proposed by the company was at their Dec. 3 meeting.

AT THIS meeting, Edward C. Stoelton, township supervisor, reported to the trustees that ownership of a parcel of land set aside for a recreational area was now in the name of the Township.

A letter from the developers stating that the land parcel had been placed in escrow and a letter of intent filed with the Burton Abstract Company of Detroit was read to the Board.

In a previous hearing on the firm's request for approval, the Board ruled in favor of the firm pending the transfer of title to the Township's two-acre site.

In the earlier hearing on the home development project, this letter with its

Signal Requested

BELLEVILLE—A request from the DeVilbiss Company, 39635 Expressway, for a traffic signal at the Haggerty Road and I-94 Expressway Interchange, was taken under study by the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees.

The request was detailed in a letter sent by the firm to the Township Board and presented at the Board's Dec. 23 meeting.

information on title transfer to the Township had not been forwarded by the firm. A considerable amount of discussion was held on ownership of the recreational area. This was cleared up at the Dec. 3 session.

Townships' Convention Announced

BELLEVILLE—The Michigan Townships Association will hold its Seventeenth Annual Convention at Grand Rapids on Jan. 14-16. Sessions will be conducted at the Pantlind Hotel and Civic Auditorium.

Principal order of business will be the election of a president, three vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer and a member of the Board of Directors from various congressional districts.

Representatives from local townships will be in attendance.

Area Jehovah's Witnesses To Attend Bible Meeting

BELLEVILLE—Jehovah's Witnesses in the Belleville area will attend their semi-annual Bible convention on Jan. 9, 10, and 11 at their new Assembly Hall at 10709 Grand River Avenue, Detroit.

Wayne Schultz, the presiding minister of the Belleville Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses announced that the program will begin at 6:45 Friday evening.

In discussing plans with the congregation, Mr. Schultz explained that the purpose of the assembly is to provide a three-day program of intensive, but practical Bible instruction.

Think twice before taking that "one for the road," warns the Michigan State Safety Commission. Should your driving reveal suspicious symptoms, you may be stopped by a policeman and asked to take a breath test. If you refuse you may lose your driver's license, according to a Michigan law passed to secure more safety for all drivers on the highway.

THE CONVENTION will also demonstrate how the Bible's message and Christian living can bring peace and unity to the people from all walks of life, regardless of race or nationality. The theme for the meeting is "Right Kind of Ministers."

The 1,000 delegates who are expected to attend will represent eight congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses that make up the organization's Michigan Circuit 5-B.

The educational program will consist of Bible talks, demonstrations of ministerial techniques, and experiences in the ministry, as well as other training sessions.

One of the highlights, and a feature of all Witness conventions, will be a Baptism Ceremony for new ministers.

MR. SCHULTZ also announced that A. A. Catanzaro, District Supervisor, has been appointed to serve as chairman and principal speaker. Catanzaro will deliver the main Bible discourse, "True Worship Versus the False," to be heard at 3 p.m. on the final day. The convention is sponsored by The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York. All sessions will be open to the public. There is no admission charge.

Now is the hour to make your New Year's resolutions. Well before the clock strikes twelve.

Are you resolving to give your spouse a better break—some kinder treatment next year? To cut down on the calories? To get to the office on time? To plan more outings for the family? Fine.

But how about adding one? Kick the habit in 1970. This resolution comes strongly backed by your Tuberculosis and Health Society. In fact, they consider it a matter of life and breath. Better take heed.

TAKE A MINUTE to think about the next twelve months. If next year follows the pattern of the last few there are some dark, smoky clouds on the horizon and some bright patches.

Look at the dark spots first. About 300,000 people will die prematurely in 1970 because they never did manage to kick the habit. Their deaths are directly attributable to cigarette smoking. And nearly one million people, most of them teenagers, will take up the habit. Many will get hooked.

The bright patches? One

Taxpayers Receive New IRSTax Forms

Each of the 18 million taxpayers in the United States who filed the now discontinued card 1040A form last year, have received a postcard explaining the change to the new consolidated 1040 form, the Internal Revenue Service has announced today.

This year all taxpayers will receive a larger, complete tax package that includes the one-page basic 1040 and additional pages or schedules, which may or may not be used according to the taxpayer's needs.

Most taxpayers should receive their individual tax forms and instructions by mail the first week of January.

Scout Council to Hold Orientation Session

An Orientation Conference is scheduled for all newly elected District Chairmen and new appointed Operating Committee Chairmen in the districts of the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, on Thursday, Jan. 8. The meeting will be held in the Detroit Edison Building, 2000 Second Street.

The conference opens with dinner at 5:45 p.m. and the program and "Know-How" sessions will continue until about 9:30 p.m.

For convenience so that new District personnel receive a good indoctrination into the details of their particular Scouting position, this card form and that they probably will not need to fill out more than one sheet of paper to make out their returns, the card says.

In the past, taxpayers who used the 1040A could not take advantage of certain tax credits or exclusions and could not itemize their deductions. A principal reason for making the change to the new form is to enable taxpayers to take full advantage of the tax benefits the law provides, the postcard says.

Most taxpayers should receive their individual tax forms and instructions by mail the first week of January.

general session is being held in a central location.

OPERATING COMMITTEE Chairmen, who are responsible for the administration of the district program including Advancement, Activities, Camping, Finance, Health and Safety, Leadership Training, Organization and Public Relations will meet in separate training sessions.

Registrations are now being received for the Scouters Conference at the Council Service Center, 1776 West Warren.

The fee which covers the complete cost of the program and dinner is $2.75 per person.

IN DIMES CAMPAIGN

Young Adult Drive Chairmen Appointed

In an effort to implement the fight against birth defects, The National Foundation—March of Dimes today announced the appointment of Denise Smith of Waterford, Mich. and Dana Lourie of Albion, Mich. as Young Adult Co-chairmen for the state of Michigan.

The announcement made by Lawrence D. Bos, State Chairman for the March of Dimes, is to alert high school and college students to the increasing problem of children being born defective because of the use of drugs and the lack of understanding of prenatal care.

DENISE AS State Chairman of the TAP program (teen action program) and Dana in assuming a similar role in CAP (college action program), will be instrumental in setting up symposiums in various institutions such as one held recently at Muskegon Community College and Macomb Community College, where these problems are discussed with medical authorities serving on the program.

A correspondence from Senator Faust regarding senior citizens was acknowledged and filed.

A development company, directed a request to the township in regard to the land on Martinsville Road between Savage and Huron River Drive. They were quite interested in locating that area. The only thing we can do at present is direct a letter to the Wayne County Road Commission presenting the request they made to the township.

The board members were informed of a police meeting to be held at the Kellogg Center January 12-14. A motion made by Domcik, supported by Hink, that the Township constables be urged to attend the seminar at the Kellogg Center with expenses to be paid by the township. Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Al Birk, president of the Jaycees, was present to discuss their annual Christmas Party for all children in the area. He asked permission for the use of the township firehall on December 13th, following a parade which will begin at the high school. He also asked Supervisor Stoelton to participate in the parade and present a key to Santa Claus, also that a fire truck be driven in the parade. A motion was made by Hogan, supported by Hink, that we cooperate with the JC's on December 13, 1969 for their parade at 10:00 a.m. Carried unanimously.

A letter from the Director of Plant Engineering of the University of Michigan at Willow Run Airport was sent to the township officials in regard to Universal Airlines emptying waste into our sewer system. Aircraft oils will be intercepted, filtered and trucked away. All other sewage will go through our sewer system before emptying into the Ypsilanti sewer system. Universal Airlines is located in Van Buren township so they will be under Wayne County ordinances. Motion by Domcik, supported by Maton, to direct the clerk to send a letter of acceptance to Universal Airlines for their use of our sewer system. The cost will be developed by our engineer. Motion carried.

The financial statement for the 34th District Court for last month was read and filed.

Wayne County Civil Defense had inquired re selling the crane. The matter will have to be discussed further since the crane is for the benefit of four communities, not only Van Buren Township.

Regular Meeting
December 9, 1969

The meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and was called to order at 8:00 p.m. by Supervisor Stoelton. Board members present were Stoelton, Hogan, Hink, Birk, Domcik, Maton and Payne. Also attending were Attorney Hopson, Morris Levine, Township Engineer and 11 citizens.

Mr. Henry Matulewicz, township insurance consultant, presented his report on the new insurance offered by the Michigan Township Assoc. thru the Burnham and Flower Agency to cover the volunteer fireman and auxiliary policeman, while in the line of duty. This new insurance is very similar to the state required workman's compensation. The policy would pay a death benefit of $25,000 or weekly disability of $50.00 for 104 weeks. Total cost for the Fire Department would be $611.15 per year with the police department having a $518.50 department charge plus $37.50 per man. Mr. Matulewicz stated that for the money it was a good policy. Motion Hink, support Birk, to table the discussion. Motion carried unanimously.

A letter from the Wayne County Office for Industrial and Commercial Development was read regarding the purchasing of advertisement space in the Plant Location Magazine at a charge of $400 to $500. The question was brought up as to the usefulness of such advertisement. Motion Maton, support Birk, to have the supervisor contact the Industrial Committee regarding this matter. Carried unanimously.

New Sheriff Pledges Professional Job

DETROIT — Pledging "complete professionalism of our department," Undersheriff William Lucas has become the first Negro to be Sheriff of Wayne County.

Lucas, 41, a career law enforcement officer, took the oath of office before a near-capacity crowd in the City-County Building auditorium Dec. 23. He was appointed by a special three-member committee to complete the term of Detroit-Mayor-elect Roman S. Gribbs.

Lucas must run for election in the fall, 1970 election.

Lucas was an FBI agent in Detroit when Gribbs chose him as Undersheriff in June, 1968.

The new head of the 400-member Sheriff's department, the third-largest police force in Michigan, was born in New York City and attended Manhattan College while working as a city policeman. Also while a vice squad officer, he earned a law degree at Fordham University. He served briefly as an Assistant U.S. attorney general in Washington before joining the FBI in 1964.

Lucas resides in northwest Detroit with his wife and six children.

In taking office, he declared:

The committee responsible under State law for filling the Sheriff's vacancy consists of County Clerk Edgar M. Branigin, Prosecuting Attorney William L. Cahalan, and Presiding Probate Judge Ernest C. Boehm.

Lunatic for Christ Glad She Believes

TO THE EDITOR:

I can't imagine anyone wanting to take Christ out of Christmas. Christmas is putting the $ dollar sign up more every year. I am glad I am a lunatic for Christ.

Christmas is celebrating our Saviour's birth. So let's all keep Christ in Christmas, all you lunatics. Russell Tuttle had Christ in the spelling of Christmas. I am surprised he didn't spell Christmas with an X and cross out Christ there, too.

If every one was a lunatic for Christ, we would have Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Man. We wouldn't even need Courts and Police.

I praise the Lord I am a lunatic for Christ.

Silent Majority May Want Victory

TO THE EDITOR:

I have read so much in the newspapers recently about the moratoriums, Americans (?) who want an immediate withdrawal from Viet Nam, and the so-called silent majority who supposedly approve of Nixon's policy in Viet Nam.

I wonder if you people are aware of another group who would like to see a victory now and then bring our boys home as soon as possible. I have been talking to many people and it seems that victory is also their point of view, so where do the papers get this idea that the silent majority are behind Nixon?

Just out of curiosity, why don't you run a survey of your own and find out for yourselves that the people in this country are sick and tired of the stalemate in Viet Nam and want an end to this war just as bad as anyone else, BUT with a VICTORY for our boys and not a piecemeal surrender by pulling out so many servicemen at a time, which is Nixon's policy.

Zebra Defense Tough for 'Cold' Tigers

BY JIM BRADLEY
Staff Writer

Wayne's choking defense held Belleville to only 17 points in the first half of their Christmas Tournament game at John Glenn Tuesday night and the Zebras went on to a 65-49 romp over the indecisive Tigers.

Sparkling Wayne's offense was the all around play of guard Jim Green who pumped in 17 points and anchored a rock-ribbed defense which held Belleville to only five second quarter points. Slender southpaw forward Don Bates added 15 markers, 12 in a second half burst.

Compounding Belleville's plight was their reluctance to shoot when they did have the chance. Time and again the Tigers broke the tight Wayne zone defense and had a man open in close, but he passed off rather than shooting.

Wayne was hot from the foul line, canning 25 of 32, while Belleville could only muster 17 of 35.

Belleville started fast and held a 14-12 lead with 3:38 left in the first half when Wayne went on a scoring (Continued on 2nd Sports)

OVER THE MIDDLE—Churchill cagers discovered they'd have to jump some to get up as high as Belleville's Garrade Pettus (14). Pettus was the second best high jumper in the state last season and he used his leap Friday to lift the Tigers to a victory over the Livonia quintet.

Tigers Snap Losing Streak

BY JIM BRADLEY
Staff Writer

Tiger rebounding ace Rick Mussehl fouled out.

After losing their first Christmas Tournament contest to Wayne Tuesday night, the Tigers of coach Allen Gates came to life to beat Livonia Churchill, 57-49, Friday night in the consolation bracket of the holiday event.

But Pettus hit a couple buckets from the right corner and Belleville ran off six straight points to lead 49-41 and were never threatened thereafter.

"We played fairly decent ball Friday night, but still not (Continued on 2nd Sports)

Six straight points by guard Dick Wenzel upped Belleville's lead from 21-20 to 27-22 at halftime and the Tigers managed to maintain at least a four-point margin the rest of the game. Probably the difference in the game was Garrade Pettus who led the team with 15 points and Jim Singleton, who added 13.

These twin scorers, muffled almost entirely against Wayne, came to life in sparking the 'Tigers' attack. Bob Lytle and Marty Miller, improving with every game, each fired in 8 markers and Wenzel had 6.

After leading by 27-22 at halftime, Belleville had its lead narrowed to just 43-39 after three quarters, and things looked bleak when Churchill cut it to 43-41 as

Sypula Tops at HFCC

Tim Sypula, who wrestled in the shadows of Nate "Moose" Williams last season, stepped out of the shadows and into the limelight at the second annual Henry Ford Community College Wrestling Invitational on Saturday.

The 17-year-old Romulus senior held the spotlight as he startled previously undefeated Essa Sacklah, of Garden City West, to claim the gold medal in the heavyweight bracket.

Sypula, now 13-3 on the season, managed to stop Sacklah's gold medal bid, 12-4. It was also Sypula's first major invitational tournament victory.

In the semi-finals, the aggressive Romulus grappler turned back Pruss, of Redford Union, 11-0, and he also pinned Edsel Ford's Ken Cornell in the first round in 5:59.

Romulus, "dead-last" in the initial meet a year ago, climbed to fourth place in the eight-school tourney.

Wayne Memorial, with three first places and four seconds, compiled a total of 98 points to nose out rival, Dearborn, for first place honors. Dearborn collected 95 points for its runnerup berth.

In third place was Edsel Ford (58); while Redford Union was fifth (34); Garden City West, sixth (31); Fordson and Livonia Bentley were tied with 22 points each.

Coach Jim Stallings also received second place performances from Russell Reaume (185); David Brown (175); John Arrington (155); and Gregory Stephens (123).

Reaume, a veteran of three varsity campaigns, lost out to Edsel Ford's Dave Brown via a pin. One crucial mistake ended in defeat for the Romulus matmen. Brown wasted 51 seconds to gain the verdict.

Ironically, Reaume had previously won a convincing 13-0 decision over the Edsel grappler. To reach the finals, Reaume had defeated Wayne's Tom Nelson, 10-6, and had floored John Nigrin (Dearborn) in 1:51.

Brown appeared to be on his way to a gold medal in the 175-pound class, but, with 19 seconds remaining in the bout, Dearborn's Kinzel pinned his rival.

With the score 3-2 in Arrington reached the Brown's favor, the Eagle matman found himself trapped underneath the Dearbornite who flipped his rival for the pivotal pin.

Gary Root, Wayne Memorial's undefeated 155-pounder, was the thorn in John Arrington's side. Root pinned Arrington in 2:54 for the title in that weight class.

finals with a victory over Schauer, (3-1). He drew a bye in the first round.

Stephens tried to muscle his way to victory over Dearborn's Jenks who pulled a 5-3 upset on the 123-pound Romulus grappler. Stephens turned back Redford Union's McCurry, 4-0, and Fordson's Gutierrez, 4-0, to get into the finals.

Coach Stallings went into the meet at Dearborn without the services of three impressive novice grapplers who had earlier competed in the annual Ann Arbor Novice Tournament.

LOOKING AHEAD—Belleville's southpaw-shooting guard Dick Wenzel (dark jersey) appears to have dropped something — the ball. But, in reality, he hasn't. He is just dribbling past a Livonia guard in their contest at the Second Annual Glenn Holiday Tourney. Belleville won this one.

THE SPORTS MERIDIAN
By Tom Mooradian

You gotta give Cherry Hill basketball coach Joe LaScola plenty of credit. No, not for his victory over John Glenn in the Holiday Tournament! He and the players share in that, but for the way he assures himself of a special cheering section at all the games.

How?

He just drags the missus and the five kids along to the games. And have you ever tried to convince a kid that poppa is doing something wrong?

Don't! And I speak from experience.

Joe always makes good "copy," like last week when we gummied up the Cherry Hill story and gave pivotman Jim Kroll 24 points and left Keith Cabanaw with 10. It was visa-versa.

"Hitting the milk bottle again?" asked the personable coach.

"Nope, I got in my first accident and was a bit frustrated last week when I wrote the story," I pleaded.

"No problem, Tom," says Joe. "I conduct a Driver's Ed class for the kids during the summer. Glad to teach you, too."

It took some time but we finally made contact with Don Haney, Wayne Memorial's "new" wrestling Coach. Haney, who replaced Ray Raffard at the start of the season, has been around Wayne Memorial for the past 11 years and stepped into wrestling job when Raffard took over as principal at Nankin Junior High School.

We have to thank Don's little daughter, Donna Lee, for this introduction: "Daddy, there's one of your students on the telephone and he wants to know if he can write?"

Sometimes I wonder.

There's also a blossoming "11-not-quite-12-year-old" in the Bill Brandell family who's proving to be a knowledgeable reporter.

Brandell, who coaches Belleville's swimming team, isn't available sometimes when we need the score sheets. Of late, (Continued on 2nd Sports)

Preps Resume Basketball Action on Tuesday

High school cage coaches and players in the area and around the state return to the courts next week to plead their cases for titles.

One of the most interesting encounters in this area will take place Tuesday night in Dearborn Heights where Cherry Hill Coach Joe LaScola and his Spartans will try to make Crestwood forget about title designs in the Tri-River.

Cherry Hill, impressive after its opening league setback to defending champ Garden City West, has kept in shape for the important showdown with Coach Tom Tate's Chargers by competing in the John Glenn Holiday Invitational.

The Spartans reached the finals of that tourney by trimming the host.

Neither Cherry Hill nor Crestwood can afford another loss if they are to keep pace with Garden City West, which is undefeated in five outings.

West, though looking down from its perch from the top of the Tri-River League standings, is still in reach of Crestwood (whom they still must play twice). Schafer (once-defeated) and Cherry Hill, which lost by two points in its first encounter with West, but has a return engagement later.

West starts the New Year as guests of Taylor Kennedy (Jan. 6). The Tigers visit Crestwood on Jan. 9.

In other area games,

Huron returns to the Huron Conference warfare Tuesday night as the guests of Airport. Coach Dave Court, beaten twice in the league after a fast start, is living precariously — another stop sign may all but kill the Chiefs' chances of a title year.

Inkster, though it will begin Mid-Wayne League action a week from Friday, has Ecorse to contend with on Tuesday. And a victory over the downriver powerhouse could mean an undefeated season for the Vikings.

Riding the crest of a four-game winning streak, Coach George Thompson's quintet realizes that the Raiders could easily cut that streak Tuesday night.

In their first engagement Inkster waited until the final seconds of the game before pulling out a 67-62 victory. Playing on Ecorse's court Tuesday, things could be different for Coach Thompson's quintet.

Coach Manny Lentine's Blue Knights also return to action Tuesday night. St. Mary's will visit Ann Arbor as guests of St. Thomas, a team which the Knights drove off the court, 75-54, the first time around.

And the second time around should be even sweeter for the Knights who have compiled a 5-3 Southwest Division record.

Winless Franklin won't find its New Year opener a happy one — the Patriots take on city nonleague rival, Bentley. Look for Coach Bob Visser's Pats to remain frustrated for some time to come.

ALPINE MEET AT BOYNE

For the first time in the history of the U.S. Ski Association, the Midwest has been awarded a sanctioned Alpine Competition.

Alpine committee officials approved a bid made by Central division president, Carl Grebe of Midland, Michigan, to host a slalom meet February 21 at Boyne Mountain.

Sports Meridian

Cherise, the coach's daughter, has been providing us with the information.

She even chews father out because the sheets have incomplete information.

See what we have to go through, Cherise, to make a living?

Cherise attends most of the Belleville swim meets and enjoys them, but she confesses: "I'm not a very good swimmer, but my brother, Brian, is."

I just like to go to the meets and if you need any information, just call me," says Cherise.

Boss, let's get her on the payroll.

As if Mrs. Billy Joe Young, wife of Garden City East cage coach hasn't had enough problems this year, she found herself with another last week.

Mrs. Young, whose father suffered a heart attack earlier in the month, had to rush Billy Joe to the hospital Tuesday after the East coach complained of difficulty breathing.

She couldn't keep Billy Joe in the hospital very long. He was out the very same day and at the helm of his team when it competed at the River Rouge Holiday Tournament.

"It was just a case of nerves," said Young later. "I feel all right now."

Better quit your stalling, Billy Joe, and relax. Sure you and boys are working overtime and enjoying it less these days, but the name of the game is to STAY in the game.

Also home for the holidays is former Inkster cage star Richard Walker, who was a member of our All-Area class of 1967. He sends the following note:

"I know you are probably wondering who this is. Well, you told me to keep in contact, so I am. I would like you to be my guest at the Motor City Classic (Dec. 26-27).

"I would also like to thank you for the fine articles in the past."

Naw, Rich, we haven't forgotten you!

But, if I recall correctly when you played at Inkster, you were a winner. Whatcha doing on a loser like Bowling Green State University, huh?

Anyway, wish you and the guys a lot of luck!

Happy New Year, Everyone

Zebras

Leading Belleville's impotent attack was playmaker Bob Lytle, a slippery southpaw guard, who hit 11 points. Garrade Pettus, who is having a tough time getting started this season, hit only four buckets and was in foul trouble most of the night.

One of the few bright spots in Coach Allen Gates' Belleville line-up was newcomer Marty Miller, a diminutive sophomore guard who is coming along fast. For Wayne, coach Myers could thank his defense for holding the fort until his scoring machine warmed up. After a 12-12 first quarter deadlock, Wayne eased into a 22-17 edge as the boys headed for the lockerroom. The Zebras increased their margin to 41-29 at the three-quarter mark and settled for their 65-49 victory.

Tigers Snap Losing Streak

(Continued from 1st Sports) up to our potential," Gates said after the victory. "We were going for the boards more, but I'd like to see more aggressiveness on the part of my boys."

The second-year coach of Belleville's basketball fortunes had praise for Marty Miller, his sophomore guard who is improving with every game. "He's really coming along fine and I hope he continues," Gates evaluated.

"I hope Dick Wenzel and Garrade Pettus settle down and start playing the brand of ball they're capable of," he added.

"Don't give your family a funeral for the New Year," says the Michigan State Safety Commission. At least half the drivers in fatal accidents have been affected by alcohol. Drive sober yourself and don't trust yourself or your loved ones to anyone else who is under the influence.

Belleville was scheduled to meet John Glenn in the consolation finals Saturday night.

The Tigers return to regular season action at home against league foe Allen Park on Friday, Jan. 9.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!!

HIGH STYLE casement windows of ponderosa pine heighten the contemporary design of this apartment. The windows offer other tenant attractions—good visibility and ventilation, easy cleaning and operation.

Apartments--- Getting New Look

Apartments are growing in number, decreasing in size, and changing in style.

Currently, apartments account for about 50 percent

Casements Heighten Mod Decor

One of the most contemporary-styled windows is the wood casement — an increasingly popular feature in both single and multi-family homes.

The slim lines and uncluttered glass areas of wood casements reflect and emphasize modern decor. At the same time, the window offers simple operation, cleaning ease, good visibility and maximum ventilation.

A study of modern multi-family units by the Bureau of Building Marketing Research, shows that 8 out of 10 apartment units are in low-rise buildings with a single-family "look". New apartments stress leisure, luxury, low-maintenance, design, color, and changing family life styles.

For example:

*Three out of four apartment units have four rooms or less, to suit today's smaller-size families.

*At the same time, apartment sizes are relatively large — units average 903 square feet (about the size of the typical single-family home of 20 years ago).

*Luxury features are practically becoming standard. These range from air conditioning, dishwashers and garbage disposals to fireplaces, built-in bars, and separate dining rooms. Communities that don't already offer swimming pools, saunas, central vacuum cleaning systems and private security guards may soon be competing for tenants with those that do.

*There's a growing emphasis on exterior eye-appeal, seen as a psychological shift away from the austere appearance of cold, old apartment "flats"

It's reflected in the use of high-fashion building materials with built-in "decorator" features.

One example is the popularity of heavyweight asphalt shingle roofing in modern colors for garden and townhouse apartments. The variety of shingle colors allows either individualization of separate units, or coordination of all units in the community. The deep, attractive shadow lines of heavyweight shingles (those weighing 290 or more pounds per 100 square feet of roof area) give roof surfaces a modern "textured" look. For the increasing number of builder-owners, asphalt shingles offer the additional advantages of long life and minimal upkeep. Heavyweights are designed to provide up to 25 years of service with little or no maintenance.

*A distaste for home and ground maintenance, and a desire for leisure also add to apartment appeal. The study shows that today's families want to escape mundane house chores and use their leisure time for relaxation. In rented apartments, maintenance chores are the job of the landlord, not the tenant. In multi-family communities, a homeowners' association generally handles house maintenance and ground work.

Ford Blasts Nixon Policy On Education Spending

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman William D. Ford (Democrat, of Michigan's 15th District) made a blistering attack on President Nixon for "11th hour power politics" as the 1969 Session of the 91st Congress moved into its final hours.

Congressman Ford lashed into the President Friday on the House floor, and again Saturday morning at a special press conference. In both instances, he singled out President Nixon's threat to veto educational appropriations for the coming year.

Congress had been treated by President Nixon "to the most amazing and brazen display of power politics in the modern history of our country."

"Within the last few days," he declared, "as the most important legislation considered by this Congress is in Conference Committee, with its fate hanging in the balance, we have seen a flood of messages from President Nixon in a direct attempt to intimidate Members of Congress in their consideration of that legislation."

The Congressman is a member of the House Education and Labor Committee, and is chairman of the Education Task Force of the Democratic Study Group — an organization of liberal House Democrats.

In his statement Friday on the floor of the House of Representatives, Congressman Ford charged that the Congressman Ford cited four areas in which the President has used the threat of a veto to influence legislation — educational appropriations, Social Security benefits, Federal employee pay, and mine safety legislation.

"He threatened last night by letter to the Senate that he will veto the Health, Education and Welfare appropriations bill, which this House passed by a vote of 393 to 16 on July 31," Congressman Ford said.

"According to this morning's paper, he is going to veto the Coal Mine Safety Bill, because he does not like it, even though the House passed it by a vote of 389 to 4.

"We approved, by a vote of 311 to 51, a pay increase for all Federal employees, to help them keep pace with increases in the cost of living. President Nixon has threatened to veto this bill, because it would be inflationary.

Sound Control Quiets Gripes

Age of tenants makes a difference in apartment preferences.

According to Apartment Construction News, the wide range of recreational amenities being offered in many multi-family communities has definite appeal to singles, young-marrieds and couples with children.

But, the publication notes that older tenants are much more concerned with "essentials", such as sound control, large room sizes and easy maintenance.

Sensitivity to sound can be particularly noted among "empty nesters", probably because they are "new" apartment dwellers, and, having had homes of their own, are not used to noises that generally accompany life in a multi-family unit. All tenants, however, are likely to raise loud complaints about noisy buildings. And an increasing number of apartment owners are sound controlling their buildings to avoid these problems.

Many apartment owners have taken steps to reduce excessive noise, whether it is caused by transmission (noises coming into the apartment through windows and walls) or reverberation (noise that bounces off walls and ceilings inside a room).

Wall materials can make a substantial difference. Hardboards, for example, have proven sound-deadening qualities. Tests show that hardboard wall paneling installed over a drywall or plaster partition, or on both sides of an insulated cavity wall, makes an excellent deadener of sound transmission. This advantage, plus the decorative and low-maintenance qualities of prefinished hardboard, makes it a practical choice for individual apartment units and for public rooms and hallways.

An increasing number of apartments either provide carpeting or specify that tenants must install it. Carpets cushion sound, while bare floors transmit noises to the apartment below.

Ceilings can also become echo chambers. In many apartments, acoustical ceiling tiles are installed to quiet things down.

Petpourri

By Mike Murray

Weimarner Z's Silver Michelob, owned by Barbara Zuchelski of Westland, now needs only a major to finish his AKC championship after going Winners Dog and Best of Winners at the recent Motor City Specialty, bringing his point total to 15.

Two local dogs finished their conformation titles at the Ingham County Kennel Club's bench show on December 7. Conarch Titian Talari, an English Cocker Spaniel owned by Janie Graham of Westland, finished by going Winners Bitch and Best Opposite Sex while Golden Retriever Terraqua Golden Lahcer, owned by John Wells of Westland, clinched his title by taking Best of Winners.

Gordon Parham of Salem, Michigan, and Bernard Ziessow of Franklin are among the panel of judges for the Pontiac Kennel Club's all-breed unbench show to be held January 18 at the Waterford Oaks Activities Building, 2800 Watkins Lake Road, Pontiac.

Due to limited facilities, entries will be limited to 600. Entries close January 6, or after the limit is reached, with the superintendent, Bow Dog Shows, 9999 Broadstreet, Detroit 48204.

With holiday season upon us it seems an appropriate time to thank all the pet people who read and support Petpourri. Your response to the column has been truly gratifying. Best wishes for the coming year from the entire Murray family; Mike and Carole, Elizabeth, and, of course, Snoopy, Nicki, and Tator — our Doberman family.

Miller's 'Fall' Explains a Marriage

By HOWARD ALLEN
Amusement Critic

Wayne State Hilberry Classic Theatre.

Arthur Miller fell from the exalted heights after marrying Marilyn Monroe, if his only productive effort during the period, a screenplay called "The Misfits" (which certainly was any judge. That the marriage was not a happy one is generally conceded. Perhaps this is why Miller felt the urge to explain himself. The result is "After the Fall," the Lincoln Center Repertory Company's first big hit a few years back, now in the repertoire of the Miller has spent all the time since, denying that he is the character Quentin or that Marilyn was the character Maggie, but few are paying any attention. It is absurd to believe that a story line could be that coincidental, dealing as it does with the complications which come from a man so closely bound up in liberal causes during the McCarthy era as to come to the attention of congressional witch-hunters, a man who weds a show business siren whose life deteriorates into neuroses, liquor and pills.

Miller's play unfortunately is as confused in certain respects as Miller himself must have been. It swings continuously from the physical to the philosophical, while Quentin continuously drops lines like, "But he is God, and God's power is love without limit." You "can't pass over lines like that; you have to chew on them a bit and when you fill a play with dialogue like this, it becomes more of a mouthful than can be easily digested. His conversational dialogue is little better: "Do the hardest thing of all. See your own hatred and live." How many people do you know who casually talk like this?

Director Robert T. Hazzard clears away some of the underbrush. For example, instead of populating the stage with characters not in the scene, like a superfluous Greek chorus, he allows attention to focus on the action. Darcy Pulliam handles the difficult role of Maggie well; Fred Vaugois lacks the depth for Quentin.

Detroit has never had a really first class cabaret revue, in the same league with New York's "Upstairs at the Downstairs," not until "Between the Sheets" at Bobby Rodgers' new Half Pint's in the Belcrest Hotel.

The decor is superior to that at the spots where "Over the Counter," "You Gotta Be Kiddin'" "Walter Reuther Wonderland" and all the rest played. It, along with the company, accompaniment and all the rest are comparable to New York's "Upstairs." This can not have been said about many of the previous local ventures.

Rodgers reworks some of his old material -- his Peyton

Place number is out of his previous review and he stole it from a Henry Martin number -- and he still loves to play around with vending machines, but much of the material is bright and incisive.

Unfortunately, the service at Half Pint's is the city's worst. Twenty minutes to get an order taken? Thirty minutes to get your bill paid? As Rodgers observed in a previous review, "You Gotta Be Kiddin'."

Just in time for the holiday season is one of the year's brightest movies, "The Reivers," William Faulkner's lively and nostalgic look at a childhood episode where he takes off with a couple of scamps for a four days escapade among the bright lights.

Steve McQueen ably leads the foray, leading his young companion into the delights of his favorite bordello and through the perils of a horse race, with a 1905 automobile which McQueen had "borrowed" as the perilous stakes.

Nostalgia can get sticky if not handled properly, but "The Reivers" is as tart and juicy as a lemon pie, frothy and flavorful in these days it is an utterly rare commodity

-- a picture of pure entertainment with no apologies needed if you wish to enjoy yourself.

Open your garage door before you start your car even on the coldest mornings, advises the Michigan State Safety Commission. Carbon monoxide poisoning builds up in the bloodstream.

OPEN NEW YEARS

Jazz Session at Institute

DETROIT—Detroit's own Hal McKinney Quintet will present blues, soul, rock'n'roll and contemporary American jazz in a unique jam session for youngsters at the Detroit Institute of Arts, Saturday, January 10.

Discovering Jazz, part of the Detroit Youth Theatre's "Something Every Saturday" series, is aimed at entertaining and explaining jazz to boys and girls, six years and older.

The group is Hal McKinney on piano; Sam Sanders, sax; Marcus Belgrave, trumpet; Eddy Pickens, bass and Archie Taylor, drums.

McKinney uses his extensive musical background in a highly original presentation to give boys and girls a solid look at jazz, from ancient to modern times.

He begins his program with a theme from a nursery rhyme, adds and describes the roles of various instruments, and ends the segment by improvising with various jazz forms. Historical notes about the origin of jazz are added during the hour-long session.

Cultural flashbacks include performances of Egyptian melodies, Baroque modes, African rhythms and Western-European harmonies. All the major jazz forms and techniques are then applied to McKinney's own composition, "Juba."

Performances of Discovering Jazz are at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Tickets are $1.25 (groups of 20 or more, 75c) at the Art Institute Ticket Office (832-2730) and J.L. Hudson ticket centers. The museum ticket office is open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Sunday from noon to 5 p.m.
